

CONNOR WINS GREAT FIGHT AT MADISON

Republican State Convention Of Nineteen-Six Is Over--La Follette Is Beaten.

ISHOWEVER ENDORSED FOR SERVICE

Candidates Spent Strenuous Twenty-Four Hours And Finished Their Work This Morning At Two O'clock.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 26.—W. D. Connor for chairman of the state central committee.

The end came at two o'clock this morning, after 14 hours of struggle since the convention had been called to order. Attempts to delay the election of Mr. Connor were temporarily successful, but they were only temporary so. The final vote was Connor 71, Dick 47, R. M. Bashford 1.

When Chairman Hudson announced the result of the vote, the assembly chamber, filled with tired delegates and anxious, expectant spectators, rang with cheers. The Connor people cheered for the hard victory, joined in because it was a fair victory, well deserved, it had fighting counts for anything. All through the convention everything seemed to be pushed aside in importance before the overshadowing contest, that for chairman of the state central committee. Even the formulation of the platform seemed to be of secondary importance, and even though that process occupied nearly eight hours of hard work in the committee on resolutions, it was said by leading delegates and members of that committee that an effort to delay the election of state chairman was the reason for the long deliberation in the executive office. Certain it is that the Connor members of the committee wanted to report at 9 o'clock, but were held for more than three hours longer because Assemblyman Ekern and A. H. Dahl offered almost multitudinous proposed planks for careful consideration. These men, however, did not fail to gain some points in this long measurement of reason over the table in the governor's private office, for it was after 11 o'clock that an amendment to the previously completed platform was secured, consented to by both Governor Davidson and Chairman Connor, endorsing the work of Senator La Follette in the national congress since he has been in Washington, and calling upon the members of the Wisconsin delegation in the senate and house of representatives to support his wise course.

Five times during the convention was the long roll of delegates called and each individually responded to his name. The lines were closely drawn and victory lay first on one side and then on the other. On one vote, that on the question of adjourning until morning, the vote was in favor of the anti-Connor people, 63 to 58, but Assemblyman LeRoy took a long time to count up the result and verify it, and meantime W. L. Essman, head assistant and earnest worker in the interests of Mr. Connor, hastened to cause some wheels to move. The result was that Senator J. H. Stout arose and changed his vote from favoring adjournment to favoring "sticking it out." Then George G. Sedgwick, nominee for the senate in the fifteenth district, changed his vote the same as did Senator Stout, and they were followed in this step by Wallace Hager, nominee for the assembly in the second district of Brown county. These three changes reversed the standing of the vote from 63 to 58 in favor of adjourning to 61 to 60 in favor of "sticking without sleep to the bitter end," as Mr. Connor is reported to have said.

As the program he desired to have followed, that settled it, and after a bit of sparring, in which speeches were made for and against electing a chairman in the wee sma' hours, and for and against the advisability of electing Mr. Connor as the manager of the state and legislative campaign, the final passages took place, the last vote taken and the republican convention of 1906 was quickly wound up. When at last adjournment was taken the hands of the clock pointed to 2:30.

The first roll call was had on a motion of Assemblyman Dahl proposing to amend a motion of Senator John M. Whitehead of Janesville. Senator Whitehead proposed the adoption of the rules of the Wisconsin assembly as the rules of the convention but Mr. Dahl desired that there be congressional district meetings and that the membership of the platform and central committees be determined in this way. The Dahl amendment was lost by a vote of 67 to 59, and then the senator's motion went through as a matter of course.

The second roll call was demanded when Senator Frear proposed a resolution providing that the chairman of the convention appoint the platform committee, and Senator Sanborn opposed this and moved an amendment that the congressional districts favor of state aid for good roads, a proposal to officially advertise Wisconsin's resources and attract new settlers, encouraging higher education and commending the school system of the state.

On motion of Senator Sanborn the platform was ordered printed and it was intended to consider and act upon it this morning, but after the election of state chairman, this motion was reconsidered and the platform was adopted.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Buffalo, Sept. 26.—The committee is not ready to report on the democratic state convention and took a recess from eleven to 2:30. Indications point to Hearst's nomination for governor. It was decided the platform should contain a plank on Bryan and also it should declare in favor of municipal ownership of public utilities, the latter being qualified by the local option clause.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Ackley, Iowa, Sept. 26.—Ackley and vicinity celebrated Sauerkraut day today. Other communities may have their peach day or melon day, but Ackley's is a German town and it prefers to pay its homage to the good old-fashioned dish of sauerkraut. The celebration is an annual custom and each year "Sauerkraut day" attracts several thousand visitors into town from all the surrounding country. Thousands of cabbages were shredded and prepared as only the Germans can prepare sauerkraut in anticipation of today's celebration. The kraut was served free to all who cared to partake and if desired it was accompanied by red-hot wiener-wursts, which were guaranteed to be home-made and not chopped canine or products of the jungle. Man, woman and child pronounced the kraut to be the finest and the wurst the best, and the celebration was voted a huge success.

A telegraph pole also burned which crippled the telegraph service and delayed information. Mail Clerk Harding was phoned beneath the mail car. He was roasted to death before he could be cut out.

TAX COMMISSION HAS ITS FIGURES READY

Rock County is Third in the List of Total Valuation of Taxable Property.

Rock county is third in the list of the Wisconsin state tax commission as to the valuation of all taxable property of the state for this year. It is upon this valuation that the so-called state tax is levied. This state tax consists of the common school tax amounting to about $1,200,000; interest of state indebtedness, $157,570; aid for graded schools, $80,000; aid for free high schools, $100,000; aid for state university, $65,000; aid for state normal schools, $250,000; the total of all of which will be about $2,400,000.

There is considerable sentiment among the three members of the state board empowered to levy this tax—Gov. Davidson, Secretary of State House and State Treasurer Kempf—in favor of levying one-half or more of this $2,400,000, or in other words levying only about one-half of this amount and taking the remainder from the general fund of the state treasury, as they have authority to do.

Total Valuation $2,124,800,000. The total valuation of all taxable property of the state this year is fixed at $2,124,800,000, as against $1,953,700,000 last year, an increase of $172,100,000 or a little less than ten per cent.

The valuation of the real property of the state is fixed at $1,711,422,204, as against $1,533,332,382 last year, an increase of $178,089,822. The valuation of personal property is fixed at $453,377,796, as against $420,367,618 last year, an increase of $33,010,178.

The largest increase of course is in the wealthiest counties, which are Milwaukee and Dane counties. The valuation of taxable property in Milwaukee county is fixed at $413,554,930, an increase of $17,372,450 over last year, and in Dane county $37,045,940, an increase of $6,735,415 over last year. The five highest counties and their totals: Milwaukee county, $413,554,930; Dane county, $37,045,940; Rock county, $30,025,423; Dodge county, $23,532,225; and Fond du Lac county, $20,002,846.

ROCK COUNTY VERY WELL REPRESENTED

Lawrence University Has Thirteen from This County Now Enrolled in School.

Appleton, Wis., Sept. 26.—Thirteen Rock county students are registered this year at Lawrence university, this number being two more at the Appleton institution from that county than ever before. Janesville and Milton lead with three each; Evansville and Edgerton each have two here, while Clinton, Milton Junction and Beloit each have one representative. The Janesville students are Miss Ethel B. Hodge, Miss Blanche Benison and Miss Helen McChesney.

Those from Milton are William McEwan, Miss Hazel North and Miss Bessie Owen.

Evansville—Elmer G. Shergar and Percy Chum.

Milton Junction—Claire Pryce.

Edgerton—Miss Hazel Lynton and C. W. Otto.

Clinton—George W. Kinyon.

Many of the Rock county students are among the freshmen at college this year and their names have already been enrolled on the lists of "eligibles" prepared by "boosters" of the literary societies, fraternities and societies. They will be initiated in the several organizations after the first semester in January.

The total enrollment at Lawrence university this year is larger by eighty students than ever before and the increase in attendance from Rock county is just about in proportion to the increase from other counties of the state, the ratio increasing in proportion to distance of the various counties from Appleton.

A crusade against saloon keeping is on in Fond du Lac county by A. H. Zechel of Appleton. George Gibson and Henry Kremer were fined for operating slot machines.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM ADOPTED AT MADISON

Madison, Wis., Sept. 25.—Following is the platform adopted by the convention of the nominees on the republican state ticket last night:

The republican party of Wisconsin, through its representatives assembled in accordance with the provisions of the primary election law, affirms its adherence to the principles set forth in the republican state platforms of 1902 and 1904.

Readjustment of Tariffs.

We adhere to the republican doctrine of protection to American labor, but believe in the readjustment of tariff schedules in all cases where protection is employed for the benefit of capital to the injury of the consumer and the workman. We believe in the humane and sanitary housing of the people and the better environment of home life in the densely settled sections of our larger cities and favor legislation to that end.

Realizing the great opportunities existing within our state for the farmer, merchant, the manufacturer, and the homeseeker, we believe a legislative provision should be made for the purpose of calling these opportunities to their attention in an official manner. We pledge the republican party of Wisconsin to maintain, by appropriate legislation, the highest standard of excellence in all public schools and educational institutions of this state, and to advance their efficiency to meet every requirement consistent with the needs of our people.

Amendment of Constitution.

We favor amending the constitution whenever necessary to permit the enactment of laws which shall best accomplish the objects above mentioned. With these declarations, the republican party confidently appeals to the voters of Wisconsin for support, and points to its record in the past years as evidence of its good faith, and a guaranty of performance of its promises in future.

We endorse and approve the past administration of Gov. Robert M. La Follette, as conspicuously progressive, honest and economic, and point with pride to his advocacy of a faithful compliance with party promises made to the people of Wisconsin in the past. And we specifically point out, among the important measures secured during his administration, the laws affecting primary elections; the state railway commission, and equitable method of railway taxation; the law prohibiting improper legislative lobbying; and other laws of great value to the people of Wisconsin.

We approve the work recently done in congress to secure similar legislation, and we urge upon our senators and representatives in congress to join in a united effort in support of such legislation that will insure in national affairs the same reforms as have been enacted into laws in Wisconsin, and hereafter, and now recommended by the platform of the republican party in this state.

Praise Gov. Davidson.

We endorse the administration of Gov. James O. Davidson, and his businesslike conduct of the affairs of state. He has never faltered in his adherence to the principles of the party as expressed in its platforms of recent years, and a continuation of his administration assures a continuation of the reforms so auspiciously begun. We pledge ourselves to the enactment of a law providing for the regulation of rates of service of all public service corporations, similar to that now exercised over railroads. The same reasons exist for controlling the rates of water, electric light, gas, telephone, telegraph and street railway companies, and other public service corporations, as for controlling transportation rates.

We pledge ourselves to the enactment of a law providing for the regulation of the issue of stocks and bonds of all public service corporations, giving to the Wisconsin railway commission supervisory control over the same, and by appropriate provisions preventing the issue of any such stocks and bonds, except for actual value.

We favor the enactment of laws for the regulation of the business of life insurance which shall provide for the fullest protection to the funds of such companies; the protection of the interests of Wisconsin policy holders in the event of a failure of such companies; the making of mutual companies mutual in fact as well as in name; publicly in all of their affairs; and an accounting and irrevocable apportionment of dividends.

Railway employees are engaged in a public service most hazardous in its nature. Legislation should be enacted providing that negligence of an injured employee shall not bar a recovery of damages by him; if the jury shall find that the negligence of the railway company is greater than his own.

Graduated Income Tax.

We pledge ourselves to further the passage of a law imposing a graduated tax upon incomes with reasonable exemptions, and the passage of such law as soon thereafter as possible in order to remove among others, the great evil existing by reason of the present mortgage taxation law.

We favor such amendment to the primary election law as will strengthen it and make it most effective as an instrument of government in the hands of the people.

We favor the enactment of legislation which will enable any city or village that so desires to own its own public utilities and to apply the broad principles of eminent domain in acquiring existing plants at their true values. We also favor legislation which will give to municipalities when they purchase a public utility, the right to pay for the same out of the proceeds of certificates of indebtedness which shall be a lien on the property so purchased.

We favor the enactment of appropriate legislation at the earliest practicable moment, extending state aid for the construction and improvement of the highways of the state.

WEATHER GENERALLY CALLED FAVORABLE

Do Your Meals Fit?

Do You Feel Snug and Comfortable Around Your Waist Line After a Hearty Meal?

Did your last meal taste deliciously good to you, and did you eat all you wanted? Could you have patied your rotundity in glee and felt proud of your appetite and of your good strong stomach? Do you feel rosy now because your last meal gave you no inconvenience whatever? If not you have dyspepsia in some form, and probably never realized it.

If you have the least trouble in your stomach after eating, no matter how little, or how much you eat, there is trouble brewing and you must correct it at once.

Most all stomach troubles come from poor, weak, scanty gastric juice, that precious liquid which ought to turn your food into rich red blood.

If you have nausea, your gastric juice is weak. If you have sour risings or belchings, your food is fermenting; your gastric juice is weak. If you have loss of appetite, your gastric juice is weak. If you have a bloated feeling of aversion to food, your gastric juice is weak.

You need something in your stomach to supply the gastric juice which is scanty and to give power to the weak gastric juice. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this very thing.

Now think—one grain of one of the ingredients of these wonderful little tablets digest 3,000 grains of food. They are several times more powerful than the gastric juice in a good strong powerful stomach. They actually digest your food for you. Besides, they increase the flow of gastric juice just what you need to get all the good possible out of everything you eat. You will never have that "lump of lead" in your stomach nor any other stomach trouble after taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Then everything you eat will be digested, it will give you strength, vim, energy and a rosy disposition. You'll feel good all around your waist line after every meal and it will fit no matter what or when you eat.

STRONG DRAMA BY A STRONG COMPANY

Large Audience Was Captivated by the Production of "The Lion and the Mouse."

Seldom has a Janesville audience been treated to a more delicious bit of reality than was exhibited last evening by the company presenting "The Lion and the Mouse." The old fable of Aesop, transposed into a modern parable of the power of money in American politics and the possibilities for evil if held by unscrupulous hands, is a new subject for a stage production. In "The Lion and the Mouse" the author has met all the possibilities with a courage and skill that is surprising. Elaborate stage settings, complete in every detail, added to the production which was given by a most capable company.

As Shirley Rossmore, daughter of a Supreme Court judge, ruined financially and under a cloud of suspicion of wrongdoing, Josephine Lovett not only moved to be the ideal woman, but glorified her audience by her wonderful portrayal of the character entrusted to her care. Her homecoming is naturally one of disappointment and heartbreaks, for during her visit to Europe she has met and fallen in love with the son of John Burkett Ryder, the very man who has ruined her father. Jefferson Ryder, who is in turn in love with Shirley Rossmore, accompanies her to her home and asked for her hand in marriage, but when Shirley is informed of the new conditions that exist she refuses and dismisses him and declares her intention to fight his father.

Jefferson, however, is also shocked at his father's pernicious means of dishonoring the name of Rossmore and in his sympathy for Shirley decided to help her, although he knows it is to defeat his father's plans. The second act shows the inner private life of the Ryder mansion on Fifth avenue with fawning senators, chairmen of national political committees and judges picking their heels in the outer corridors as a suggestion of the atmosphere of money power. All of them are sent gruffly away because John Burkett Ryder has an appointment with Sarah Green, author of "The Octopus," a book which she has written and whose central character is John Burkett Ryder, under another name, Miss Green, who of course is Shirley Rossmore, and there follows a remarkably stimulating encounter between her and Ryder. Delighted with her frankness and cleverness he asks her to write his autobiography and puts her in possession of secret documents from which to get the data. After being one of the members of his household for a considerable length of time, the master subjugation to her cleverness and wit is so complete, (but he asks her to marry his son in order to keep him out of the clutches of the daughter of the hated Rossmore). Her keen sense of womanhood and her love for Jefferson will not allow her to further deceive those who have shown her personal kindness when upon she admits her identity as being the real Miss Rossmore. Outwitted and cheated in his fondest hopes Ryder in a fit of exasperation orders her from his house, whereupon the son, Jefferson, intervenes telling his father his determination to leave with her and become her husband. Here Shirley's pride interposes and she announces Ryder, "Sir, assuming that she should not allow herself to fall so low as to marry the son of a man who tramples all good under his golden heel and who refuses to lift his hand to save her father from unmerited disgrace."

In the last act the little mouse has gnawed away the ropes that enslave the great money power, John Burkett Ryder; her father's name is to be cleared; her marriage to her lover assured, and the curtain drops on the little mouse successful in her gigantic battle against the wealth of the millions and the power of politics. Paul Everett as Ryder, "The Octopus," came up to the ideals of the part. Strong and willful he controls fawning senators, cringing judges only to be beaten in the end by a woman. Macey Harlam as Jefferson Ryder displayed dramatic ability, but his part was more read than given in the spirit and vim displayed by the others of the cast. Ada Levick as Mrs. Ryder portrayed the wife of the multimillionaire subject to every whim of his desire. John C. Robertson as Hon. Fitzroy Bagley, the blue-blooded Englishman, private secretary of "The Octopus," was excellent. The rest of the cast was most evenly balanced.

Before The Footlights.

In booking the celebrated Four Huntings in their new version of the musical comedy, Manager Myers got just what the people have been waiting for and no doubt will have a capacity house tonight, being the date set for their appearance here. "The Fool House" has been re-written by Harry Dull and Lew Hunting and all new scenery and electrical effects have been added. Mgr. Dull of the company has a big beauty chorus who sing, dance well. Mr. Lew Hunting is as clever as ever and has a few new stunts he will swing. Miss Hunting is as active and graceful as ever and will surely dance herself into the favor of the audience. Mr. John Hunting's comedy is up to date and Tony Hunting well, you know you are sure to laugh. An excellent support has been secured and everything new from start to finish.

Heart interest is the keynote of "York State Folks" the beautiful rural play which comes to the Myers Grandstand very soon. The customary stalling for the melodramatic effect so usual in plays of this class is missing in "York State Folks" and the ride, and at times the scenery is just grand. It is written by Edward Peppie, the author of "The Prince Chap" and is a story of railroad building in Texas. It has spirit and human nature as its chief virtues. The author pitting a full-blooded Texan girl against a manly young railway engineer and keeping the struggle taut on the night as right line. The two young people are keen, intelligent, attractive and stubborn. Each tries to give the other a lesson, and each succeeds, and in the end the love of a girl for a man brings about the desired ending. He must be a capacious critic or a hard-headed playgoer indeed who would not be satisfied with this much, considering the uncertainties of the modern drama.

In the first act of the new play Miss Allene Houston has been summoned to New York to listen to a proposition from the president and directors of a railroad who desire to build through her property, she being the last of a noble line of Houstons, beginning with or before the gallant Samuel. The railroad men have a tentative right of way, and they can make it good by getting the line through within sixty days. This they decide to do and give the job to a young engineer, John Ashby, promising to make him chief engineer if he succeeds. Will he take it? Watch him!

Miss Houston arrives and is told if she will be good she can have anything she wants up to $50,000. Not on their several lives. As long as she lives and the band plays "Dixie" she'll protect her rights as a ranch owner and a lady, and no band of pirates will rumble the ground on which she plays taxes with the iron horse of civilization. She meets Ashby. Why hello, Jack! Hello, Allene! Why don't he write? And where has she been? Then it happens. He confesses he wanted a name and a start in life before he asked her, she admits that again asked, he tells of his chances for promotion and she realizes the awfulness of fate. Jack Ashby is going to carry on the feud that had formerly existed between their families by building that road or fall right replace his gun. Then she turns the hero loose. In the third act the two ends of the railway are about to break through the barbed wire fences on either side of the ranch and join up. Another meeting and another refusal to stop the fight, even though it may cost a life. Then the men bring in the ties and lay the road by torchlight until word comes from the other end that the ranch foreman has been shot. They bring him in, and just as he is about to die, decently forgiven and with a kiss from the girl he loves, he raises on one elbow and shoots the hero in the ribs. Then he dies.

The last act is weeks after. Jack Ashby is just recovering, and he does not know whether the road has been built or not. So he puts on his cleanest white shirt and new pair of patent leather slippers and comes out into the sitting-room where, after a time, Allene tells him that she could fight the road for him, that she could fight him as long as he was up and doing; but that when she saw him helpless—well, then she just couldn't. And that's the end.

"The Love Route" is a Great Trip. Mr. Burns Mantle thus breezily describes a new play in the Chicago Inter Ocean, which will shortly be seen here:

"The Love Route" starts at the village of Good Beginning, runs up an easy grade through Melodrama, Gales, and then down Pleasant Valley to the town of Heart's Desire. It is a pretty

The second act is in Texas. Away to the right the railroad is creeping nearer and nearer the boundary line of the ranch. Also away to the left.

The cowboys agree to stand by Allene, if they have to murder every mother's son of the railway crowd.

The foreman of the ranch is particularly anxious to stand by the girl, because he loves her with a William Faversham intensity and an Edward Morgan pathos. The president of the road comes to party, bringing his secretary, and Allene's cowboys lock them up in the smokehouse.

Jack Ashby arrives to fight, and again declares his love and asks the girl to give up the fight and be sweet and tender and lovely and good. But she refuses and decides to keep Jack prisoner also until the two days expire, when it will be too late for him to go on building. But Jack is brave, and he is about to make his escape when the foreman interposes and gets smitten kawahack on the cheek for his speers. Here there would have been a killing, but Allene is there, and demands that the foreman hesitate and attendance last evening to witness Miss Mitchell's impersonation of "Aurora Floyd," and we believe every appreciative hearer will say that it was cleverly done. Miss Mitchell possesses that rare merit in an actress of playing her part naturally without straining and overacting for mere effect and as long as she copies nature instead of relying solely on artistic playing, she will not fail to please.

We can bestow equal praise upon Mr. Albright, who is really a fine actor and rendered his part in excellent taste.

This evening these excellent actors will appear in the celebrated play of "Camille." Miss Mitchell as Camille and Mr. Albright as Armand Duval, with the whole strength of the company to support them. We advise who wish to be gratified by good playing to go. Mr. Mills deserves credit for his indefatigable efforts in support and improvement of the drama, and we trust during his limited engagement here he will be sustained by remunerative houses.

Lecture.—We take this opportunity to call special attention to the Rev. Mr. Milburn's lecture which is to be delivered at the Hyatt House Hall tomorrow evening.

Mr. Milburn is well known both in this country and in Europe as one of the most able and accomplished lecturers of the age. Wherever he has spoken he has been greeted by large and appreciative audiences. His subject here will be "What a Blind Man Saw in England." The lecture is spoken of by the Press and by persons who have heard it as one of unusual interest, full of deep thought and delivered in an eloquent and masterly manner.

Persons at the Fair cannot spend more agreeable evening than by listening to this popular lecture.

QUEER BOSS-BUSTING

The first real test of the primary law has been demonstrated. Is it a success? Is the plan for boss-busting, originated, fostered and promoted by the radical element of the republican party aided by fair-minded democrats a success? The so-called state convention at Madison, the gathering of the nominees of the party to decide on a platform, has resulted in one of the bitterest political fights that has been seen in the state for many years. Defeated at the polls by a decisive majority against his own personal candidate, Senator La Follette sought to control the party politics of the republican organization. He sought to re-establish himself again as the political boss of the state. That he failed utterly in his attempt, failed to defeat his bitter enemy, Connor, for re-election as chairman of the state central committee, failed to have the Mary Ann made part of the platform, failed to carry out his ideas except in a sop of self-endorsement for his actions, is known today to the whole country. While La Follette is not down and out by any means he is tottering and the machine he built up with the excuse he was knocking down the old system of handling state affairs has crumbled beneath him. A handful of men dictated the expressed sentiment of the thousands of voters.

The "convention" was composed of the nominees for state offices, including the legislative candidates. These gentlemen proceeded to lay down the platform upon which they will run regardless of the approval or disapproval of the rank and file of the party organizations to which they belong. This is called "reform" and the new primary law under which it is done is hailed as a body blow for the bosses. To take out of the hands of the people the power to frame their party platforms and to turn that power over to a coterie—this is the Wisconsin idea of smashing bossism. That is to say, bossism is to be thwarted by authorizing a few men to get together in and pursuance of the most obvious bossism tell the people what they must think and vote for.

Of course, it is absurd, ludicrous, inconsistent. But it is more; it is unconstitutional and un-American. Under a republican form of government the people are supposed to rule. The greatest political issues have been forced upon unwilling party managers by popular insistence.

Tariff reform was made a democratic issue during the Cleveland administration by the people overruling the timid or secretly hostile leaders of the democratic party. The republican party declared for the gold standard because the people forced it to do so. The abolition of slavery would still be an open question if the party bosses instead of the people had had the settling of it.

No great issue ever would be decided if the politicians had the say so. Yet we see Wisconsin turning the framing of issues over to the politicians—the office-seekers—and taking it away from the people.

The proceeding is in line with the whole boss-busting propaganda, which fulminates against the bosses and gives them a firmer hold upon power.

The average candidate for office, being human, is more or less of a trimmer. He is especially a trimmer after he has got the nomination. He is all things to all men who have votes.

To intrust him with the power of framing the party platform is only to invite shuffling, dodging and evasion. That is the effect of the Wisconsin law.

CUBAN SITUATION

It looks today as though the United States has before it the task of bringing the Cuban republic to time in short order, not only bringing it to time, but also either completely reorganizing it or annexing it as a part of the United States. In Cuba are several thousand marines and blue-jackets ready for any emergency. Secretary Taft and Secretary Bacon are there to personally handle affairs and General Funston is said to be the officer chosen to consummate the plans when the time comes.

That General Funston deserted the Cuban cause, with which he was once associated, is generally known. That his desertion was the result of his disgust with and abhorrence of Cuban methods at the time of the insurrection seems to be fully established. When, after the battle of Las Tunas, the Cubans deliberately butchered a Spaniard advancing under a flag of truce, and subsequently slaughtered a surrendering garrison of forty-six men to conceal the knowledge of the atrocious act, Funston came to the quick conclusion that his sympathies and impulses could not be with such representatives of such a cause. He left the Cuban "army" and surrendered himself to the Spanish authorities. This accounts for Funston's "unpopularity" with the Cubans and for the hue and cry raised when the present mission to Cuba was made known to the people of the island. But it does not in any way militate against the fact that his acquaintance with the insurrectionary Cuban and his knowledge of brutal and irresponsible methods accompanying the island outbreaks make him the more valuable adviser and the more useful man with power. The Cuban must be dealt with as he is, and not as sentimentalists would picture him.

CLOUGH'S STATEMENT

The Gazette last evening printed an interview received from Mr. Clough over the telephone at Chicago. In it Mr. Clough says more pretty plain things. If Janesville wants the interurban, and ninety per cent of the voters and taxpayers appear to, they must use their influence on the council to pass the measure he wants. Capital will not be dictated to by six men who have ulterior motives in view. Aldermen Buchholz, Wait, Connell and Fish are for the franchise. They are alive to the interests of the city and for some unknown reason the remaining six are against what would be a great benefit to the municipality. The plan now is to draw up two franchises and allow Mr. Clough to choose between them. Mr. Clough states that he has drawn up a franchise which the council can either accept or reject. If they accept it he will build the road; if they reject it he will abandon the project. It is up to the council.

A GREAT SIMILARITY

The campaign just closed in New Jersey, in which Senator Robert M. La Follette went out of his way to deal a stab in the back at a fellow member of the United States Senate has ended, as did his attempt in Wisconsin a few weeks ago when he tried to force his candidate, Irvine L. Lenroot, a young court stenographer from Superior, onto the republican party as their gubernatorial candidate. Senator Dryden and his followers in New Jersey completely routed the opposition head by Senator La Follette and strange as it may seem the state of affairs existed there as in Wisconsin, WHEREVER LA FOLLETTE SPOKE COLBY LOST VOTES. It is handwriting on the wall. It is the fate of the man who mistakes the Chautauqua salute for the applause of the multitude of voters. Dryden will without doubt be re-elected and La Follette's work has been for naught.

Uncle Sam is watching Cuba pretty closely these days and the Cubans know it. Uncle Sam helped them once before, but this time he is going to protect them against themselves.

It looks as though Senator Dryden must have hired La Follette to go to New Jersey to aid his opponent, Colby, in the recent primary. Dryden won by a ratio of three to one.

The road to the cemetery is still open, but the interurban question is not yet decided and from present indications strenuous efforts must be made to assure its passage.

It is bold thievery when a man is followed from a bank to his house and then robbed of the money he drew to pay for sheep. Sort of shearing the sheep before they are bought.

In the rush of business it must not be forgotten that there is a republican ticket to be elected this fall. Your work as a citizen is not over. You must vote again in November.

Madison had four state conventions there yesterday. Three were harmonious and no one really knew they were in session and the other was a misnomer.

The city of Atlanta is in the throes of a race war such as the south has never experienced. The cause is a reign of terror produced by assaults on white women. The law seemed powerless to protect, and the white population arose en masse to stamp out the crime. The city can not be censured for radical measures adopted.

Some day Janesville will have a law which requires garbage men to haul their loads through the street in covered barrels or boxes—for sanitary's sake.

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the rescue of their party"—suggested as a motto for the democrats of the state to inscribe on their banners.

Stensland is in Chicago today and if the present plans are carried out he will begin his term in state prison by next Monday at least.

IMPORTANT CUSTOMS REGULATION CHANGE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—Secretary Shaw has modified the existing customs regulations covering the withdrawal of imported merchandise, which will cover all importations of tobacco and other merchandise. Under the regulations promulgated by the secretary today, importers may transfer the right of withdrawal by leaving blank the place for the name of the transferee and so enable any subsequent holder, if he so desires, to readily borrow money on the goods. Under the old regulations, the merchandise must have been "with drawn either by the importer himself or by his immediate transferee named in the withdrawal. The regulations as promulgated by the secretary are as follows:

"If the importer does not wish to limit the right of withdrawal to one person, he may leave the space for the name blank—i. e., make the authorization in blank. In that case, the delivery permit should be issued without bearing either the signature of the customs officer or the name of the person to whom the transfer is made. By this means, subsequent transfers may be made by delivery of the withdrawal and permit, without notation on the records of the warehouse. The person paying the duties and charges must insert his name in the withdrawal, whereupon the delivery permit will be completed by the customs officer."

"Upon surrender of the withdrawal and permit by any holder, two or more withdrawals and permits, made out like the first, may be substituted therefor, so as to effect the withdrawal, in accordance with section 2980 of the Revised Statutes, of less than the entire quantity of merchandise deposited in the bonded warehouses."

"The interest of the government ceases with the payment of duties and charges, and delivery of the merchandise thereupon rests with the warehouseman."

THE DRUGGISTS
BOTH SIDES OF TOWN.TOBACCO OUTLOOK IS MUCH BRIGHTER

Crops Throughout the County Are Turning Out Better Than First Was Thought Possible.

The present week will practically complete the harvest of the tobacco crop in all sections of the state save a few tail-enders who never keep in sight of the procession. The oldest growers cannot recall a year when the weather conditions were more favorable for securing the crop from start to finish nor a time when the tobacco went into the curing barns in such perfect condition. There has been neither storms or heavy winds to mar or break a leaf since the first cutting commenced, while grasshoppers and worms have been far less troublesome than usual. For soundness of leaf and crop ever grown in the state equals it. So universally large is the growth that the percentage of the filler grades must be considerably below that of other seasons. The weather conditions so especially fitted for the harvest have proven likewise suitable to a rapid and early curing of the hanging leaf seldom witnessed in the state. The early harvested portion of the crop is already cured down to the midrib. The warm days of early September have brought along the curing process so rapidly that the entire crop bids fair to be entirely cured in advance of the usual time and be in readiness for removal from the poles long before either the growers are prepared to strip or the packers are ready to start warehouse handling. Unless growers prefer to wait for the stalks to freeze before stripping, as some prefer to do, there will be some early records broken this season on the taking down of hanging tobacco. Warehouse handling, need not wait until after the holidays and a good deal of Christmas money may be derived from the tobacco crop this season.

All indications seem to point toward a sort of truce being called in the buying movement. But few buyers are riding this week and less transactions are recorded than any time since the market opened. Many believe the limit to high prices has been reached and from this time on more conservative work will be done at any rate there are but few packers who care to increase their holdings at the present quotations. And yet the sales coming to notice are well up towards the top figures.

The present week will see the harvest practically finished and growers are congratulating themselves upon having secured a bumper crop without mishap. Unseasonably warm weather has prevailed during the week, which has assisted in the rapid cure of the shedded leaf and so far no reports of shed damage is heard. Rain would be welcome now in most sections, least the curing goes forward too rapidly. The market for old leaf remains uneventful and sampling is the order of the day about the warehouses. The shipments out of storage just about meet the needs of the larger manufacturers holding their surplus in this market—in all about 4000s for the week to all points.

"The Love Route" was received with unanimous praise by the Chicago critics. This is what they said:

The Chronicle says: "From indications 'The Love Route' will prove one of the strongest of the many frontier plays presented during the past four or five seasons."
The Record-Herald said: "The rough humor, the bright sun and the frank men of the plains are at the end of 'The Love Route' and it is a rout worth taking."
The Examiner declared: "It is immense. It is a great big breezy play, of the plains of Texas. It is filled with the elements that grip and hold the spectator in a breathless sort of trance, waiting for something explosive and dramatic and ear-piercing to happen."
The Post said: "It is a better made and more natural play than 'The Lion and the Mouse.'"

The News applauds the piece as "A tremendously and well built play. It is pervaded with the spirit of rugged manhood," says the Journal, "and the courage and contrariness of independent womanhood. It is an honest, direct, well-knit and interesting play."

THE CONFERENCE WAS ORGANIZED

AT THE FIRST REGULAR BUSINESS SESSION THIS MORNING.

LECTURES TOMORROW NIGHT

Bishop McCabe Will Give Famous Patriotic Address, "The Bright Side of Libby Prison."

At the first regular business meeting of the Sixteenth Session of the Wisconsin Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, held in the auditorium of the Carroll Memorial church this morning, an organization was perfected. Bishop Charles C. McCabe presided and the following officers were named:

Secretaries: T. W. North, M. L. Evers, C. M. Starkweather. Stationers: R. S. Ingraham, R. Evans, A. W. Barnlund, H. C. Logan, A. Beernink, C. W. Boag. Treasurers: Mr. W. E. Kern, J. T. Leek, J. A. Collins, W. D. Kern, J. T. Turner, Theodore Sharp.

Following this report of the various committees were heard and adopted and other business transacted. Thirty Million in 1905.

In a few remarks Bishop McCabe gave some very interesting statistics on what the Methodist church gave for the cause of Christianity in 1905. Thirty million, eight hundred and fifty thousand dollars or sixty-one million and six hundred thousand dollars of pure gold, was the total amount.

Of this seventy million went toward new church buildings, twelve millions in pastors' salaries and twelve million for current expenses. The bishop in commenting on these figures said this was a vast amount but it could be doubled.

The strangers at the conference, among them some of the speakers from beyond Wisconsin, were introduced. Dr. Horace Reeder, president of the Illinois conference, was one of these.

As many of the committees did not complete their work this morning short sessions will be held from seven until half past this evening. The suggestion for such a move was made by Bishop McCabe.

Previous to all business this morning the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered.

Women Speak Today.

This afternoon the anniversaries of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary societies are being held. At two o'clock Mrs. J. S. Davis spoke in behalf of the Home Mission organization, and at three Dr. Lucy Gaynor talked, representing the Foreign Mission body. At four o'clock Rev. Wentworth F. Stewart of Detroit, Mich., speaks on "Evangelism." This evening there will be another missionary anniversary. Rev. E. M. Taylor, D. D., of Boston, Mass., speaking.

Lecture Tomorrow Evening.

The feature of the conference is the lecture of Bishop Charles C. McCabe tomorrow evening. He will deliver his famous patriotic address, "The Bright Side of Libby Prison." Dr. McCabe was one of those confined in this southern pen during the civil war. The rest of tomorrow's program follows:

MORNING SESSION.
8:30—Devotional Services, led by Bishop Charles C. McCabe.
9:00—Conference Session.
AFTERNOON SESSION.
2:00—Missionary Sermon, Rev. S. P. Yung, Ph. D.

READ BY LIGHT OF MOCKING MUSHROOM

Clitocbea Illudens Now Growing Commonly—Specimens Were Gathered Yesterday.

There is no use of either paying gas light or electric light bills or enriching John D. Rockefeller nowadays if you possess a knowledge of mushrooms. You see the Clitocbea Illudens or mocking mushroom is now growing commonly and abundantly in the open woods and these will furnish light enough to read by. The latter statement was demonstrated last evening by Horace McElroy and Halvor L. Skavlen, the two local authorities on mushrooms. They had a particularly fine specimen of the plant and a good bright enough to read by was furnished, therefore. The specimen was picked near the golf links by P. H. Korst, whose curiosity was attracted by the brilliant yellow and orange shades of the plant. Mr. McElroy said in speaking of the plant: "The mocking mushroom is very common at this time of the year, growing in clumps about stumps in the open woods. It possesses the peculiar property of phosphorescence and old specimens in a dark room will produce a brilliant glow—some times sufficient to read by. If specimens are dry they may be dampened and will then gleam. The appearance is very interesting and beautiful. The Clitocbea Illudens contains a milky poison, agreeing with some people, but causing sickness in others. The illness may be severe, but is never dangerous."

DISBELIEVES STORY OF RAID ON NEGRO COLLEGE IN SOUTH

Dr. G. H. Trever, Former Janesville Divine, Talks on Race Riots in Atlanta, Ga.

Among the Methodist Episcopal ministers who are attending the Wisconsin conference meeting here is Dr. G. H. Trever, a professor in Gammon Theological school at Atlanta, Ga., where the terrible race riots which have been attracting the attention of the world for the past few days are occurring. He is familiar with the conditions there and acquainted with some of the persons prominently mentioned in the accounts of the trouble.

This morning's papers contained a story to the effect that a negro college, known as Clark University and located in the suburb of Brownsville, had been raided and professors and students arrested. This article, Mr. Trever disbelieves. He says the school will not open until next Monday and it seems impossible that any of the students or professors would be there to be arrested. Only about fifteen of those who attend live in Atlanta and only two of the professors, one the president, reside there. Brownsville, he says, is a very quiet, peaceable and respectable community and has never had a saloon within its limits. Continuing: "I am well acquainted with J. L. Price, the negro postmaster, who was apprehended on the charge of selling ammunition to negroes. Wherein there is a charge there I cannot see, for it is just as lawful to sell powder and bullets to colored people as it is to white. Of course I do not approve of the arming of the negroes and feel that it would be better could they not be armed, but then self-preservation compels them to this move. Mr. Price is a prominent member of our Methodist church." Mr. Trever has many friends in Janesville, as he was pastor of the Court street Methodist church here about sixteen years ago. He is also known throughout the state, having preached in Beloit for a time, in Milwaukee for six years, and just left Whitewater for the south two years ago.

PUBLIC INDIGNANT AT TALK OF DELAY

Much Pressure Is Being Brought to Bear upon the Six Aldermen Opposed to Franchise.

Franchise talk is still rife on the streets and probably will be until after the council meets next Monday evening and decides to either pass or reject the franchise asked for by Mr. Clough. One alderman stated that two franchisees were being drawn up to be presented to Mr. Clough for his consideration and Mr. Clough stated in his review yesterday that he would not accept a franchise drawn up by anyone else than his own lawyer. The alderman still hangs fire. There is still talk of another mass meeting where the exact sentiment can be brought forth and the council impressed with the necessity of passing the franchise, as requested. Whether this will take form or not is not yet decided, but it is safe to say that two-thirds of the business men are more than anxious to have the Clough franchise granted and have the matter definitely settled. From the way in which Mr. Clough spoke yesterday he does not expect to return to Janesville immediately, but will leave matters entirely in the hands of his attorney, T. S. Nolan.

WEEKLY REPORT ON VIRGINIA TOBACCO

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—It seems to be the consensus of opinion among tobacco men in the Virginia regions that prices on the finer grades of this season's crop will rise above normal. Likewise, the prices on the lower grades will drop in proportion. The recent rainy spell, followed by the dry, hot weather or several days duration, has had the effect of steaming the leaves on the stalks with the result that they are falling away from the plant. The pith in the stalks is rotting and the remaining leaves on the plants are dotted with discoloring spots known as "frog's eyes." One leading tobacco man gave it as his opinion that the crop of sun-cured is in the vicinity of the Richmond would be two million pounds less than last year.

There has been no appreciable change in the quality of tobacco offered on the Richmond market during the past few weeks. A larger percent of stalk-cured tobacco has made its appearance. Primings are quite scarce and command firm prices. The receipts and offerings of dark, fired, reworked goods continue light. The sale of sun-cured continues fairly active, with prices unchanged. The receipts have been very light.

About 150,000 pounds of leaf tobacco were sold on the South Boston Va. market last week. Owing to the scarcity of farm labor the worms have nearly destroyed the late portion of the crop. The crop will be very light and inferior in quality, as there has been too much rain. Never before has there been such a shower of "green half" as late in the season, though up to a few weeks ago there were fewer worms than usual.

NEED MONEY TO AID IN THE RELIEF WORK

Associated Charities Make An Appeal to Liberal Minded Citizens.

If the work of the Janesville branch of the Associated Charities is to be continued financial aid must be given it at once. One of the members said today regarding the situation: "You know the Associated Charities is not a local organization; it is a branch of the national organization. We are not allowed to give benefits for our work, but we are allowed to solicit help by begging. For many years past the same people have given liberally to the cause but now they are dropping off. If the work is to be continued something must be done. John Rexford is treasurer and money contributions can be left with him. We need money now to continue the work and if we do not have it before winter sets in we might as well give up our organization. If the public want a new officer elected I should be glad to see one selected but it seems too bad to see people drop the work that is so much needed just now." At the present time the Associated Charities have a very sad case on their hands and they are doing all they can for them. A family of six, the father just out of a sick bed, one child of six, probably dying from typhoid fever, the mother suffering from an abscess and but little food and no comforts. The sick child had no night clothes nor sheet on the bed and these have been provided from the little money left in the treasury. It is a pitiful case and one where many little things found in many homes might be utilized to the benefit of the suffering mother and child. The committee bespeaks the aid of any person who knows the excellent work of the Associated Charities in the past for future contributions.

HERE IS THE REASON.

A 2 pound package of Pillsbury's Best Cereal Food—Vitos costs 15 cents and makes 12 lbs. of the "White heart of the Wheat" food. Twelve 10 cent packages of the ordinary ready-to-eat kind cost $1.20, and make only about 11 lbs. of food. So you see, where the great economy lies. Vitos requires less cream than dry kinds. It never gets lumpy in cooking.

DR. WM. E. SHALLENBERGER is thoroughly known to the people of Rock and adjoining counties for the scientific manner in which he has cured Chronic and Private Diseases and has restored health and happiness to many that had given up all hope of getting well. He cures permanently the cases he undertakes and sends the incurable home without taking a fee from them. If he can not cure you he will frankly tell you. If you are improving under your family physician do not give up your treatment as we prefer cases that have failed to receive the benefit from their family doctor. Rich and poor treated alike.

Dr. Shallenberger treats all curable cases of Catarrh, Throat, Lung Diseases, Stomach, Liver and Kidney, Rheumatism, Blood and Skin diseases, Nervous and Heart diseases, Epilepsy, Bright Disease, Diabetes, Bladder and Rectal complications.

EPILEPSY (Fits)
This disease presents itself in many different forms and degrees of violence. Come and let me talk with you. I never fail to relieve and about 50 per cent get entirely well. The mother of consumption should not be neglected, as many times it extends to the lungs and becomes incurable. Why fool away your time with patent medicines and unskillful treatment when you can be cured.

CATARRH

Symptoms of Catarrh of Head and Throat

Is your breath foul?
Is there drooping in the throat?
Does your voice discharge?
Is your voice husky?
Is your sense of smell impaired?
Do you hawk to clear the throat?
Do you sneeze a great deal?
Is the nose sore and tender?
Does your nose itch and burn?
Is the nose dry in the mornings?
Are you losing your sense of taste?

Catarrh of Bronchial Tube and Lungs

Have you a cough?
Are you losing flesh?
Do you cough at night?
Have you a pain in sides?
Do you take cold easily?
Is your appetite variable?
Have you stitches in your sides?
Are you low-spirited at times?
Do you cough on going to bed?
Do you cough in morning?
Is your cough short and hacking?
Have you pain behind the breastbone?

Thousands of apparently healthy people are refused Life Insurance every year because the examiner finds evidence of Bright Disease and knows only too well the results if neglected. Nearly all cases of Bright Disease is curable if taken in time. Bladder diseases are usually a complication of some other trouble and should not be neglected. Bladder successfully treated.

Piles, Fistulae, Ulcer, Fissure, Itching and Bleeding Piles Guaranteed Cured

Cured without the use of a knife or detention from business. All other Rectal and Intestinal Diseases successfully treated, such as constipation, dyspepsia, indigestion, and so forth.

Blood Poison and Skin Diseases
Blood poison is an infectious disease and the most horrible of all in its results. If you have blood poison I can cure you. Eczema, itch, acne, pimples, etc., cured to stay cured.

Nervous Debility
Are you nervous and despondent; weak and debilitated; tired mornings; no ambition; listless; memory poor; easily fatigued; excitable and irritable; eyes sunken, red, and blurred; pimples on face, dreams and night losses; restless and haggard looking; weak back; deposit in urine and drains at stool; distrustful; want of confidence; lack of energy and strength!

Diseases of Men and Private Diseases a Specialty

Of all the classes of disorder which particularly require the services of a specialist are known as the diseases of women. To the treatment of these distressing diseases Dr. Shallenberger has long given special attention and has restored vigorous health and vitality to women who have suffered for years and were unable to obtain relief elsewhere. Married ladies should be accompanied by their husbands when coming for consultation.

SCORE OF DEATHS DUE TO RACE RIOT

GRIM REAPER GATHERS HARVEST
DURING DISORDER.

ONLY ONE WHITE KILLED

Eighteen Blacks Forfeit Lives in Disturbance at Atlanta and One White.
Woman Expires of Heart Disease Due to Agitation.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 26.—The known dead in connection with the riots here since last Saturday night number one white man and 18 negroes. To this number might be added the name of Mrs. Robert E. Thompson, an estimable white woman, who dropped dead Monday evening after seeing two negroes shot and beaten in front of her home.

Tuesday, the third day of Atlanta's race war, passed without serious disturbances. Rumors literally by the hundreds have been brought to the attention of the authorities and to the newspapers, but not in a single instance had any of the horrible tales been verified. Indeed, the opposite has been established—that they were absolutely false.

Specials sent to outside papers have been reflected in inquiries to local newspaper men.

Newspapers Suppress Extras.
The charge was made that 50 negroes had been killed here and that the local papers and the press associations were either being censored or were suppressing the facts. Every bit of information that could be gathered and verified has appeared in the local papers. The papers here have united in an agreement to print only established facts; to issue no more specials or extras on the riots, and the agreement is being lived up to.

Following the arrest of 257 negroes at Brownville and Clark university early Tuesday and the detention of about 100 of these in the county jail, the feeling prevailed that at least peace has been restored by a strong show of authority.

Two Negroes Killed.
Almost simultaneously two negroes were killed in a distant part of the city by three policemen, who had been sent to stop them shooting, and the main events during the day have been the ordering into the city of four companies of state militia from outside points. Gov. Terrell saying the order was given as a matter of precaution rather than from any pressing necessity.

Demand Closing of Dives.
The gathering of a large representation of business and professional men at noon called for vigorous action by the city executive authorities regarding negro dives and saloons. Resolutions demanded that these places be closed and kept closed perpetually. In these demands the leading negro clergymen of the city unite, promising their support of all measures for the common good and their influence with their own people. They asked the protection of the authorities for the innocent of their own race as for those of the whites. They were given a vote of thanks for the stand they had taken.

Saloons Are Shut Up.
Later in the day another meeting of white citizens was held at the call of President Sam D. Jones, of the chamber of commerce. The saloons have been closed all day and will be until further notice. There is an increasing scarcity of negroes in the factories, stores, and offices, in the post office and in the telegraph companies. Hundreds of Atlanta homes are without their regular cooks, and ice deliveries are conspicuous by their rarity.

DRUNKEN MAN MURDERS SPOUSE
Woman Falls Dead in Restaurant from Effects of Four Shots.

Vincennes, Ind., Sept. 26.—John Deborn, 30 years of age, entered a restaurant at which his wife is employed here Tuesday night and shot and killed her.

Upon seeing him enter the woman started to leave the place, but Deborn fired four shots at his wife, and she fell dead at the door. Deborn had been drinking. Immediately after he fired the shots Deborn made his escape.

The shooting caused much excitement and if the fugitive is captured it is thought he will be severely dealt with.

Forty Horses Burned.
New York, Sept. 26.—Forty horses perished early Tuesday in a fire which destroyed a dozen small buildings on Water street, near Gouverneur slip.

The fire was directly opposite Gouverneur hospital and though it caused excitement among the 200 patients, there was no panic.

Indiana Millionaire Dead.
Elwood, Ind., Sept. 26.—Capt. Richard L. Lesson, aged 80 years, and owning large department stores in this city and Alexandria, is dead. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity and the Royal Legion. His estate is valued at $1,000,000.

Adds to Forest Reserve.
Washington, Sept. 26.—The secretary of the Interior Tuesday withdrew from entry 350,000 acres of land in the Kallispell (Mont.) land district which are to be added to the Lewis and Clarke and Kootenai forest reserves.

RULES FOR MEAT EXPORTS

RIGID ORDER ISSUED BY SECRETARY OF COMMERCE.

Original and Duplicate Certificates Must Accompany Consignments for Shipment to Foreign Ports.

Washington, Sept. 26.—The acting secretary of commerce and labor Tuesday promulgated certain rules regarding the exportation of meats and meat products, prescribing the manner of inspecting carcasses and the issuance of certificates, labels, etc.

The rules require that both the original and duplicate certificates shall be delivered to the exporter, who shall file the original with the customs officers and the duplicate with the consignee, to be used by the latter in identifying the shipment at the point of destination by comparison with the original.

Clearance is to be denied to any vessel carrying meat products for exportation where regulations have not been strictly complied with in the matter of proper proof of the due issuance of identification certificates covering each shipment of meat and meat food products, showing the name of shippers, the destination, and other information required by the law.

The new rules go into effect October 1.

Secretary Wilson Tuesday, after conferring with the officials of the bureau of animal industry and in response to many inquiries on the subject, so far modified the meat inspection regulations as to hold that minced meat is not a meat product. It has developed on investigation that the percentage of meat in mince meat was so small as to bring it within the exempted class.

SOUTH AMERICAN REBELS FREE

Charge of Counterfeiting Fails to Hold Against Revolutionists.

New York, Sept. 26.—Capt. George E. Boynton of South America, and Lewis M. Thompson, a lawyer of this city Tuesday was discharged from custody by a United States commissioner before whom they had been arraigned on a charge of having in their possession hubs and dies for the reproduction of the "Bolivar" silver dollar of Venezuela.

Counsel for the defendants contended that the federal statutes made a distinction between the possession of dies to counterfeit United States coins and the money of another country, arguing that proof must be established that it was intended to engage in the counterfeiting within the jurisdiction of the United States.

The commissioner upheld this contention, and as the prisoners showed that they had planned to make their coins in the Delta of the Orinoco, in South America, the case was dismissed.

BRUTAL SOUTH BEND MURDER

Man Cuts Wife's Throat, Pours Oil Over Her and Applies Match.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 26.—A. R. Ludwig, of Mishawaka, Tuesday afternoon murdered his wife, threw her body into a closet and set fire to the house.

Then he cut his own throat and severed arteries in his wrists and legs.

The body of Mrs. Ludwig was found by firemen badly charred. Ludwig cut the woman's throat, poured gasoline over her and then applied a match.

He was 37 years old and his wife 36.

ROBBER ATTACKS HELLO GIRL

Takes Small Amount of Cash After Knocking Her Senseless.

Jefferson, Wis., Sept. 26.—Emily Klippert, the night operator in the local telephone exchange, was dealt a crushing blow on the head by a robber, who broke into the exchange early Tuesday and who then robbed the cash drawer of a small amount.

When the girl recovered consciousness she crawled to the switchboard and notified the police, who were compelled to crawl into the building the same way the robber came in as the girl was too weak to admit them.

Suspects Released.

New York, Sept. 26.—John Danakos and George Capenako, the two Greeks who were arrested on suspicion of knowing about the murder of a man whose dismembered body was found Sunday in a pit at Eleventh avenue and Thirty-sixth street, were discharged from custody Tuesday. The police have not discovered the identity of the man who is believed to have been murdered.

Mine Fire Still Burning.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 26.—Fire underground in the North Kearsarge branch of the Osceola mine is still raging and all shafts have been closed at the surface in order to cut off air and stifle the flames. The burning property is the most important producer of the Osceola company. It shipped 1,500 tons of rock daily, and 800 men are rendered idle by the fire.

Excess Fare Declared Illegal.

Columbus, O., Sept. 26.—In an opinion rendered to the state railway commission Tuesday, Attorney General Ellis holds that it is unlawful for railway companies to charge ten cents excess fares where cash fares, instead of tickets are tendered, even when they refund the excess upon the presentation of the conductor's receipt.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT

Taxation on the Prosperity of Cities." "Franchise Conditions in New York City." The program is one of the best ever arranged for a meeting of the league. The most interesting feature will be a discussion of the problem of municipal ownership of public utilities. Frank Parsons, chairman of the Boston municipal ownership city, "The Effect of Sanitation on Morality," "Baltimore's Great Sewer Problem," and "Prime Requisites of Successful Administration."

The League of American Municipalities, in contradistinction to the National Municipal League, is an organization for the purpose of studying the practice, rather than the theory of municipal government. It is composed of men in municipal office, from mayors down to street superintendents, and its membership in the United States and Canada includes about 10,000 of such experienced workers in the municipal field. These men, having been forced to meet all conditions that arise in the management of municipal affairs, are in position to discuss the many problems involved from the standpoint of their experience. The league is strictly a practical organization, and its work is being prosecuted continuously, and not only during the few weeks of its annual convention. Probably the most important work of the organization is done every day of the year through the league's permanent bureau of information, which is established for the purpose of providing the members with information pertaining to the progress and practice of municipal governments. The league also publishes an official monthly magazine devoted to practical municipal affairs.

In conjunction with the present convention of the league there is being held a meeting of the organization of municipal and state fiscal officers, which was formed in Washington last February. The program for the meeting includes addresses on "The Administration of a Public Debt," by James Y. Flavel, St. Louis; "Financial Special Assessments," by L. McGinnis, controller, Chicago; "Uniform Municipal Accounts and Their Value to the Government," by G. Powers, census bureau, Washington; "The Audit of Claims Against a City," by J. P. Madigan, city auditor, Cleveland, and George M. Rex, city auditor, Pawtucket, R. I.; "Methods of Municipal Accounting," by Louis Betz, comptroller, St. Paul, and Louis E. Gosselin, deputy comptroller, Chicago.

STATE NOTES.

Centennial lodge, No. 1, of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, of Fond du Lac, has surrendered its charter, and the first Workmen lodge organized in the state of Wisconsin has ceased to exist.

The Madison board of education has sent a circular letter to all parents in Madison asking them to cooperate with the board in crushing out fraternities and other secret societies in the high schools.

Another fatality occurred Sunday morning on the Wisconsin Central railroad near Lewis street, Fond du Lac; the body of Michael McNulty, residing at 379 Juneau street, being found in a mangled condition at 4 o'clock in the morning. The killing of Mr. McNulty added another name to the list of victims who have met their death in the same manner and within a stone's throw of each other during the last nine months. William Carey, Jr., of Dotyville was killed on Jan. 2, Lemuel J. Mason of Chillicothe, O., on March 28, and Jacob Suttan of Hilbert, Wis., on Feb. 3.
